

HEALTH PRACTITIONER – Therapy resistant Patients?

When your sleep or work place is exposed to geopathological stress or electromog influences exist with biological incompatibility, after using remedial measures and reorganizing the patient's work or sleep place, the patient will be back in regulation after 4 to 8 weeks, i.e. he will be treatable again, responding to a therapy.

Furthermore, the sleep or work place will be arranged using Feng Shui principles in order to support the therapy with positive Qi for the patient.

You have therapy resistant patients and can not establish as to why the patient is not reacting to therapeutic measures? Then do not hesitate to contact me; you have come to the right place.

When we are ill, we tend to ask ourselves what have I done in the past few days that caused my body to pull the emergency cord and stop me? Sometimes it is not only short term factors such as lack of sleep, insufficient water consumption and too much stress that cause existential disturbances, but rather long term influences, such as:

- sleeping into the wrong direction,
- earth energies, so called geopathological radiation, or
- man-made electrical disturbance sources, so called electromog.
