

Graduate Feng Shui Practitioner's Course in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

September 12, 2005

Day 2 - Lecture, Exam Review

Day 2 was a classroom day. Grand Master Yap Cheng Hai and Master Yap Boh Chu went through the examination paper that all the students were required to take and to pass at the end of the Advanced Feng Shui Practitioner's Course before being invited to the Practical Graduate Feng Shui Master Practitioner's Course.

Misconceptions of theory were clarified and practical case studies were explained in detail. The more subtle things that one should pick out from house plans were also discussed. Important matters on the measurement of roads and rivers were clarified during the lecture as well. Differences in Feng Shui measurement between residential homes and commercial sites were enforced.
